

Peace

▲ DR. CECIL W. ROBBINS, treasurer of the North Carolina committee of CROP (food collecting agency of Church World Service) declared after a recent visit to Europe: "The churches are accomplishing what governments cannot do—laying a solid foundation for enduring peace" in Europe . . . A woman who calls herself "Peace Pilgrim"—the words are painted in white on her blue tunic—came through Washington, D.C. on a hike from Los Angeles to New York, but failed to get an interview with President Eisenhower. Her message is simple: "Overcome evil with good, falsehood with truth, and hatred with love." She also favors a peace department in the U.S. government . . . The Association for the Defense of the Peace Constitution of Japan recently resolved opposition to rearmament as a violation of Japan's constitution.
